

Disciple Multiplying Movements are exploding among some of world's most resistant people. Why not Canada? We need to ask the hard questions and get some answers! Trevor Larson (pseudonym is used for security reasons) is an O.C. International missionary who is overseeing a movement of over 100,000 disciples in a very resistant part of Asia. This movement is on track to double in the next 14 months. He will be a plenary speaker at

Missions Fest Vancouver and will be conducting a workshop on Friday January 26 entitled "Building Disciple Making Movements". The registration link is:

There is more!

Two opportunities for interaction with Trevor will follow Vancouver Missions Fest. These identical events are entitled "Why Not Canada?" Some of the topics addressed will be:

Common ingredients of effective Disciple Multiplying Movements.

What are the sticking points in Canadian society?

Where are the sparks of hope today?

Helping existing local churches pave the way and grow as a result.
